DUMBARTONS BONNIE DELL

a Scotch Ballad

as Sung and Composed

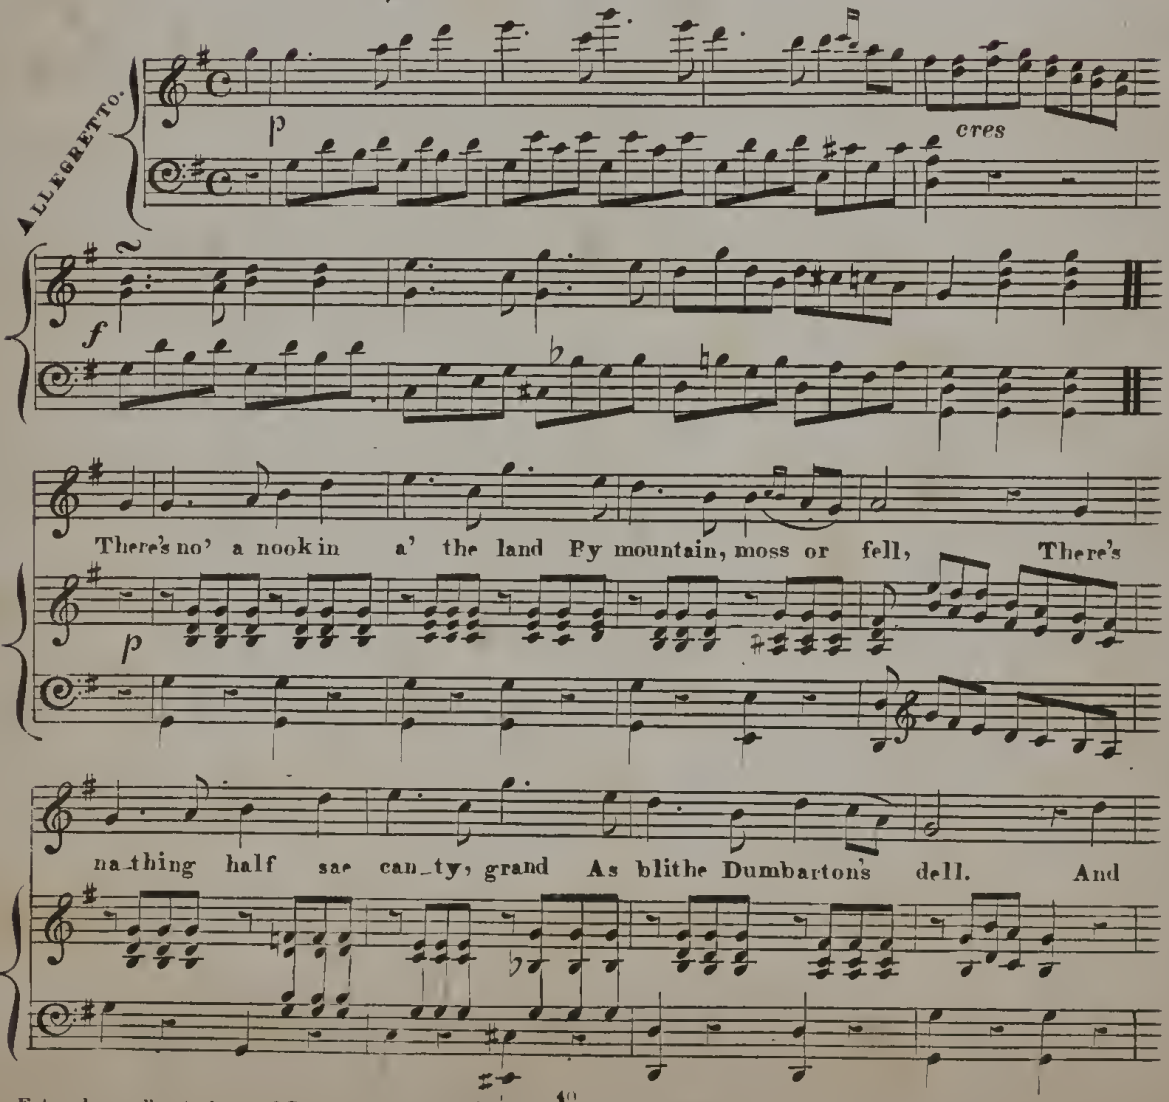
for the

PIANO FORTE

BY

JOHN SINCLAIR.

Philadelphia Osbourn's Music Saloon N.º 30 South 4th St.



ALLEGRETTO.
p
cres
f There's no' a nook in a' the land By mountain, moss or fell, There's
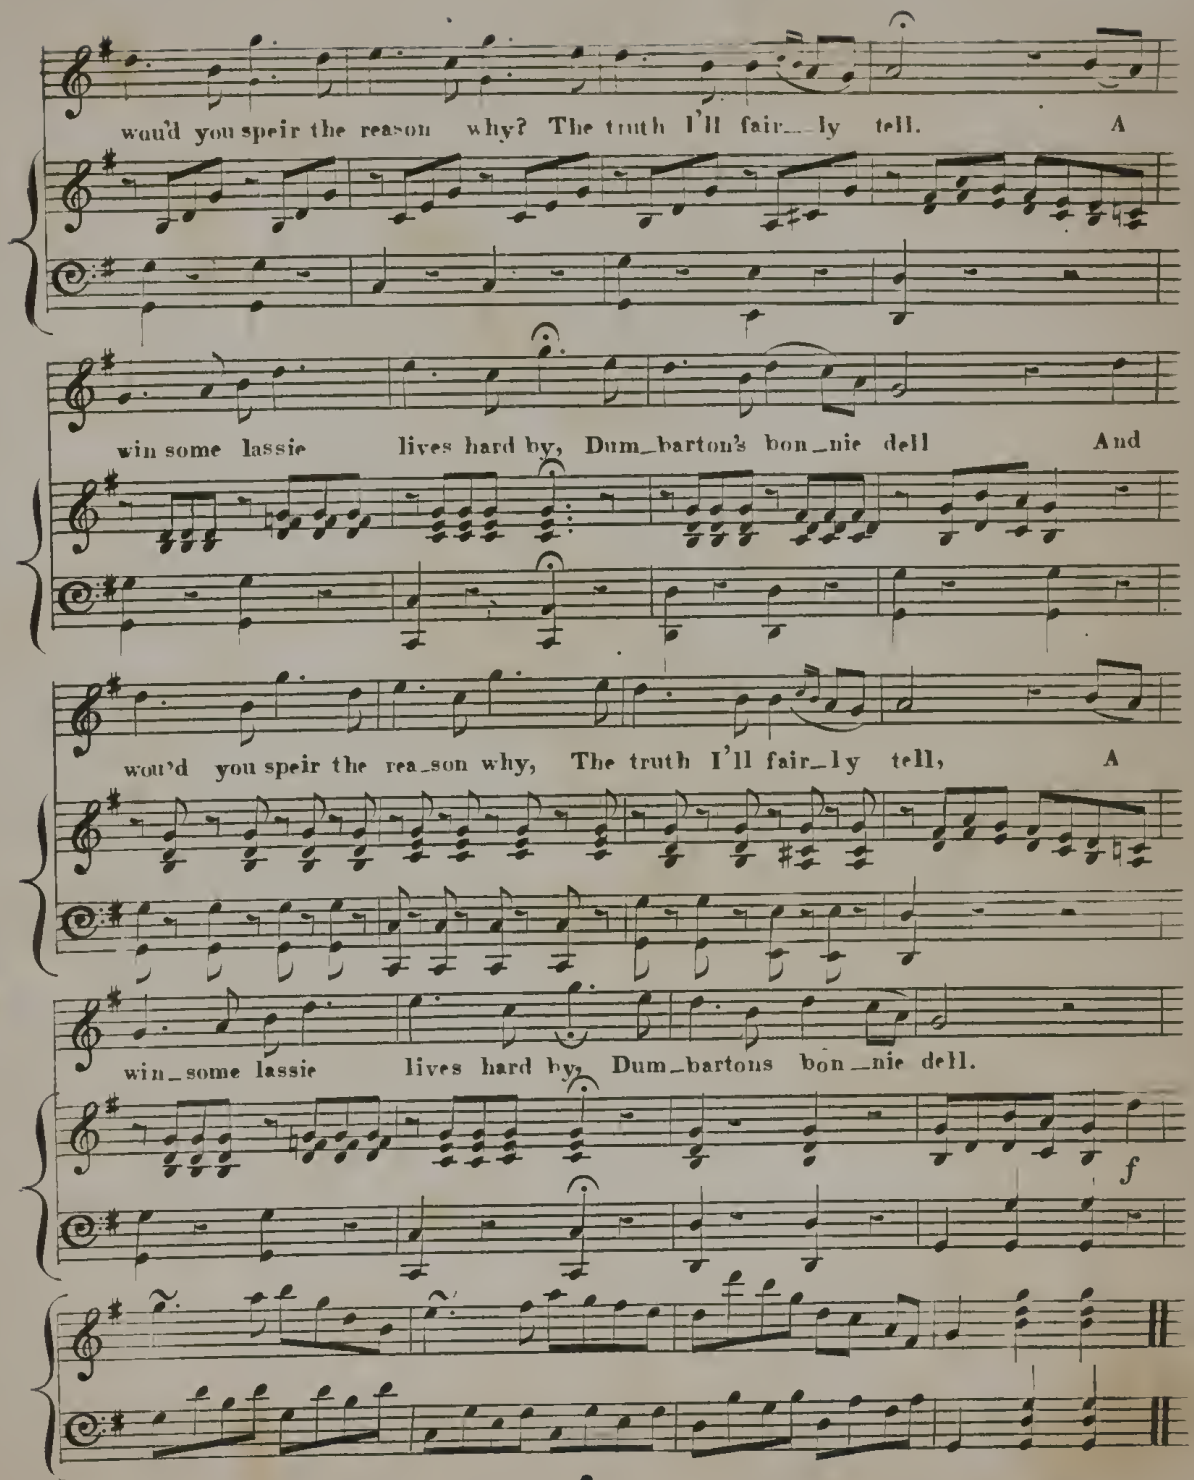
p na thing half sae can_ty, grand As blithe Dumbarton's dell. And Entered according to the act of Congress in the year 1832, by J. Edgar, in the Clerk's office for the Eastern District of Penn.ª



wou'd you speir the reason why? The truth I'll fair_ly tell. A win some lassie lives hard by, Dum_barton's bon_nie dell And wou'd you speir the rea_son why, The truth I'll fair_ly tell, A win_some lassie lives hard by, Dum_bartons bon_nie dell.
f

2

Up by yon glen Loch Lomond laves,
And bold Macgregors dwell,
Where bogles dance o'er heroes graves,
There lives Dumbarton' belle.

She's blest with every charm in life,
And this I know full well,
I'll ne'er be happy, till my wife,
Is blythe Dumbarton's belle.